MCDONALD MIN'S

TRY RETURNED

The result of Tuesday's election in the Old Country awards the new McDonald National Party an overwhelming win, with a clear majority of over 500. Not in the last century has any British government secured such a majority as the National government will have in the new house of commons. The opposition has been practically obliterated. Headed by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, the entire cabinet seeking re-election has been returned to the house. In his own constituency, the prime minister secured a majority of 5,951 in a three-cornered fight.

The party standing in the new parliament will be: Conservatives 472; National Labor 13, Independent 3; Labor 50, National Liberal 65, L. G. Liberal 5. There are still a few polls to be from.

Gains and losses are given as follows: Conservative gains 207, National Labor gains 13, National Liberal gains 26, Liberal losses 12, Labor losses 234, Independent gains 2.

AN APPEAL TO EX-SERVICE MEN AND THE PUBLIC

With the passing of time, we are again reminded of the approach of November the 11th, the day on which we, as ex-service men, should get together to show our respect to our former comrades who gave their lives for King and Country. Now lie in graves marked and unmarked throughout the various battle areas in France and Flanders; and also those of our comrades who succumbed to the ravages of war after their return to home and loved ones.

November the 11th, 1931, should mark an epoch in the annals of the Blaimore branch of the Canadian Legion, as it marks a culmination of our past efforts in sponsoring the movement of making November the 11th a national holiday.

The officers of the legion desire a 100 per cent turnout of ex-service men and invite the public to participate in the Armistice service, to be held in the Orpheum theatre, Blaimore, on Wednesday, November the 11th, at 10.45 a.m.

This service is being held, as formerly, under the joint auspices of Crow's Nest Chapter, I.O.D.E., and Blaimore Branch No. 7, B.E.S.L. —THE COMMITTEE

Desirous of dissociating themselves from any connection with "Red Russia," miners of the Drummond Coal Company at Westville, Nova Scotia, have decided to sever relationship with the Mine Workers' Union of Canada and affiliate with the U.M. W. of A. The Communitic leanings of the M.W.U. of C. is given as the cause of this action.

ARMISTICE DAY

PARADE AND SERVICE

The I.O.D.E. in conjunction with the Blaimore branch of the British Empire Service League, will hold a memorial service on November 11th at 11 a.m. in the Orpheum theatre. A parade will be formed in front of the B.E.S.L. club rooms and march to the cemetery to decorate soldiers' graves. All returned soldiers and the general public are invited to take part in this parade and service.

ZIEGFELD SUPERVISES

"WHOOPEE" FILM

"Whoopee" which comes to Cole's Theatre, Blaimore, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, of next week, admission 25 cents, is the first screen musical comedy that has had any personal interest or supervision from Florenz Ziegfeld, Broadway's most distinguished producer. In partnership with Samuel Goldwyn, he was on hand to assist in the shooting of every foot of the picture, said to be the most ambitious effort yet made entirely in technicolor. Eddie Cantor is starred, of course, in the screen transcription of his famous stage success.

R-B BANK TO GET THRILL

Three Halifax youths told the police at Halifax that they rolled a ranch of the Royal Bank of Canada simply to get a thrill, and were released for trial. Chipman Smith, a whose home $13,219.00 of the $13,307.50 stolen was recovered, appeared to enjoy the proceedings and entered the court with a broad smile. Richard Morse, who the police say accompanied Smith to the bank, and G. Leroy Dickson, junior clerk at the bank, told detectives that Dickson gave the signal to enter. They appeared worried. Dickson admitted leaving the signal to the robbers when to operate.

Without Altering Diet

To reduce weight without any attention to diet is rather more than anyone should expect. That the Kruschen method should have succeeded in this case is a great tribute to its effectiveness.

"When I started taking Kruschen for reducing weight, I weighed 170 lbs. That was seven months ago. I decided I was too heavy, and now, thanks to the half teaspoon of Kruschen every morning, I tip the scale at 150 lbs. I have been taking weight for nearly four months. I may say I feel much better. I did not diet myself in any way whatever."—E. C.

Kruschen Salts do not reduce you overnight—like so many products claim to do. But taken regularly over a period of time—with a modified diet and gentle exercise, half a teaspoonful in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast will take away unhealthy flesh and restore your figure to its normal weight. Yet at the same time—build up health with a great increase in vigor and energy for you!

Increased activity is reported in many Lancashire and Yorkshire cotton mills as a result of an influx of orders since the gold standard was suspended.

"The New York American," quoting "an informed source," says the late Senator Dwight W. Morrow, of New Jersey, left an estate of "close to $20,000,000."

Separate Grade For Garnet Wheat Asked

May Be Excluded From Contract Grades Of Northern Classes

Garnet wheat will be excluded from the contract grades of the northern classes after July 31, 1932, if a resolution passed unanimously by the Western Grain Standards Board is approved and the Canadian Grain Act duly amended at the next session of parliament.

The resolution urged that it be graded as a separate variety of wheat in grades to be known as number one, two and three Garnet, with anything which fails to meet the requirements of these grades being included in the lower grades of the red spring wheat.

Worry and Fear

Factors That Help To Shorten the Span Of Life

The way that hate, fear, worry and jealousy have helped to choke off at 58 years man's hitherto rapidly increasing span of life, was described to the American College of Surgeons in New York.

The bank president worrying over business, the criminal suddenly stricken with fear and the mother watching her sick child all were pictured as doing the same injury to their health.

This increase to 58 as the average time every adult may expect to live was discussed by two internationally-known physicians, Dr. George W. Crile of the Cleveland Clinic, and Dr. Charles H. Mayo, of the Mayo Clinic of Rochester, Minn.

Dr. Crile told the medical story of ravages of emotions of modern civilization. Dr. Mayo sketched remedies for ill health, which included newspapers as "the greatest educating, thought-moulding enterprise in the world."

CROSS-OVER LINES TEND TO MAKE THE FIGURE APPEAR SLIM

You'll love this silk crepe shantung in powder blue and white. It's so extremely serviceable. Its moulded lines with wrapped arrangement through the bodice make it especially desirable for the woman inclined to overweight. The surplus shawl collar of plain white crepe does its bit toward minimizing breadth.

It's simplicity itself to copy it! The bodice cuts in one unit it joins the skirt.

It's a splendid opportunity! Choose now! You'll be delighted with this smart model.

Style No. 931 may be had in sizes 16, 18, 20 years, 36, 38, 40, 44 and 46 inches bust. Size 36 requires 3 1/2 yards of 36-inch material with 3/4 yard of 35-inch contrasting.

Charming for this model for town or resort are the pastel flat crepe silk, Chinese silk damask, linen and shirring fabrics.

Pattern price 25 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred.) Wrap coin carefully.

Men, Not Gold

Arthur Brisbane, a United States editorial writer, comments on the flying performance of the British Lieutenant Stainforth who made a mark of 386 miles per hour, and says: "A nation that can make such airplanes and find men to run them ought not to be discouraged about a few million pounds sterling one way or the other. It is what men have in their brains that makes a country."

BRITISH "BOBBIE" STRIVES FOR LAW AND ORDER

This lively scrimmage is far more reminiscent of what is expected of Red Russia than of usually staid, peaceful London, but such scenes as this battle between a London policeman and several marchers in an unemployment parade, have become frequent in the British capital as demonstrations increase over prevailing economic conditions. The policeman was trying to tear a red banner from the hands of the struggling marchers as this picture was snapped in exclusive Oxford Street, London, England.

China Becoming Modern

Western Mode Of Living Is Being Gradually Adopted

That China is rapidly narrowing the gap of centuries between its antiquated mode of living and modern civilization has been evidenced in many ways. The Chinese student is avid for Occidental knowledge and may often be seen mingling with enthusiastic graduates at Columbia and other universities. The Oriental nation has realized the healthful benefits of wheat at a most opportune time and it is now becoming a new consumptive market for 15,000,000 bushels of surplus wheat from the Federal Farm Board's stocks, which it recently purchased on a long-term credit basis. Nor is the health of the modern Chinese baby being neglected. The best milk and butter that registered "Ayrshire" cows can produce will attend to this necessity, for the Hong Kong Dairy and Cold Storage Company has placed an order with the British Columbia Ayrshire Breeders' Association for 50 head.

The New Honey Grades

Canadian Standard For Honey Proposed A Natural Classification

The consuming public are showing a special interest in the attractive appearance and convenient identification of quality which is made possible by the new honey grades, which come into effect this year. Where honey is sold by grade the grading must conform to the Canadian standards. The Canadian standards for honey provide a natural classification by colour into the four classes "White," "Golden," "Amber," and "Dark." These classes in turn are graded strictly on the quality basis as "Fancy," "Choice" or "Manufacturers." The honey grades are especially popular because of the consistency of the application of grade terminology to the product when graded, the inherent quality of the honey literally speaks for itself.

Must Buy At Home

The woman of Turkey's officialdom must turn their eyes from the mode of Paris and buy their gowns at home, the cabinet has decided. The edict against foreign raiment applies even to President Mustafa Kemal, who must forego his London tailor's services. It's all part of a national economic programme.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

NOVEMBER 1

WORLD'S TEMPERANCE SUNDAY

Golden Text: "Be not drunken with wine, wherein is riot, but be filled with the Spirit."—Ephesians 5:18.

Lesson: Galatians 5:13-26; Romans 13:1-14.

Devotional Reading: Romans 14:12-21.

Explanations and Comments

"Brothers," wrote Paul to the Galatians, "Christian Freedom, verses 13-15—tiam, 'you are free from the Law, but Christian liberty does not mean that you can do as you please.'"

"A Christian man is the most dutiful servant of all, and subject to all."—Martin Luther.

Liberty and license are not synonymous. Do not use your freedom as a license for indulging your lower impulses, but live in accordance with the law of love. "Flesh" is used here to mean "that element of man's nature which is opposed to goodness and makes for evil." It signifies the entire potency of sin "through" loving services for others," continued Paul, "you fulfil the whole divine law, which is, 'Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.' Paul here quotes Leviticus 19:18.

Then remembering that the Galatians were prone to quarrel, Paul adds, "But if ye bite and devour one another, and even one another like dogs or wild beasts—beware lest you destroy one another." Mutual back-biting and hatred can only end in the destruction of one another's spiritual life.

"The Power Of The Spirit, verses 16-18—Walk by the Spirit, submit to the guidance of the Holy Spirit in all your actions, and then you will not fulfil the desire of your evil nature. For the evil nature and the indwelling Holy Spirit are antagonistic. 'Throughout this passage the Spirit' is evidently the Divine Spirit, for the human spirit in itself cannot stand in direct antagonism to the flesh."—Lightfoot.

"If you are led by the Spirit," Paul continues, "you are not under the law, for you will not disobey it." "Law exerts its influence, but it is not in direct antagonism to the flesh."—Lightfoot.

"The Works Of The Spirit, verses 19-21—The works of the flesh are manifest—plainly seen—Paul declares, and then gives a repelling list of some fifteen vices which were common among the Galatians. 'It may be pointed to as a proof of depravity that vocabularies have more words descriptive of forms of sin than words descriptive of forms of holiness.' Under the fruit of the Spirit Paul gives a list of nine, but under the works of the flesh he lists twenty-five, properly sixteen, and the word translated 'impulse' implies that he did not profess to give an exhaustive list—he could easily have added other instances."—R. F. Holman.

"The Fruit Of The Spirit, verses 22-23—When the basest effects of the self-life is corrected, the fruits of the Spirit appear, naturally and easily. Note the distinction between work, in which there is effort, and fruit, which flows so imperceptibly and silently on the branch, pressed out from within."—R. F. Holman.

He who is governed by the inner spirit is not content merely to refrain from breaking the law; he exercises positive virtues such as Paul now enumerates: love, joy, peace, kindness, gentleness, self-control. Each of these is the result of the first which is love. Against such there is no law. "Paul is content to remark—not without a touch of irony in his tone—that these things do not seem to call for the interference of legislation."—A. W. Robinson.

"The Final Counsel, verses 25, 26—'If we live by the Spirit, by the Spirit let us also walk.' Walking by the Spirit is the effect of living by the Spirit. If the Divine Spirit has control of our spirit, then we are living loftily, doing daily what we believe Christ would have us do.

Growth Of Swedish Town

Modern City Was Arctic Wilderness Twenty Years Ago

A little more than twenty years ago the thriving town of Kiruna, Sweden, was nothing more than Arctic wilderness, the abode of wandering Lapps and herds of reindeer. Today it is a bustling community of 11,000 inhabitants which serves as the commercial center of a vast iron industry with a history as romantic as the most adventurous pioneering exploits of North America. Swedish engineering skill has placed in the center of polar wastes a small modern city with as many up-to-date mechanical comforts as the most fastidious American city dweller could wish for. In the industrial world, Kiruna has become known for its almost unlimited iron ore resources. Figures given by officials of the mining syndicate which controls the properties show that more than 9,000,000 tons of iron ore were produced during 1930. A steady annual gain has been recorded since the mines were first worked on a large scale, about 1911.

Ex-Kaiser Leads Active Life

Occupies Time Taking Several Forms Of Physical Exercise

Ex-Kaiser Wilhelm is not the old, worn-out man that many people think him to be. Quite on the contrary, he leads a very active life, according to the Dorn correspondent of the Berlin Tempo. His household consists of some sixty persons, and he continually receives visits from members of the former royal family. The ex-kaiser relies to a large extent on physical exercise to occupy his time. He arises at 6 a.m. and often takes a brisk walk before morning chapel at 8. Breakfast is at 9. During the remaining of the morning he either plays tennis, indulges in wood chopping or again strolls through the woods adjoining the palace. He is accompanied on his walks by his pack of dogs—three dachshunds, a Russian wolfhound and a German shepherd dog. He has so completely cleaned out his own park of fallen and dead wood that he is forced to rely on his neighbors to "give" him work to do.

Lawyer: "It would be better if you could prove an alibi. Did anybody see you at the time of the crime?" Client: "Fortunately, no."

Jean, always sensitive to her surroundings, shivered a little.

"It's rather eerie, isn't it?" she said. "It's just as if someone had suddenly turned the lights out."

"Quite a nice bit of symbolism," he returned enigmatically.

"How? I don't think I understand."

He laughed a little.

"How should you? You're young. Fate doesn't come along and snuff out the lights for you when you are—what shall we say? Eighteen?"

"You're two years out," replied Jean composedly.

"As much? Then let's hope you'll have so much the more to wait before Madame Destiny comes round with her snuffers."

He spoke with a kind of bitter humor, the backwash surely, of some storm through which he must have passed.

Jean looked across at him with a vague trouble in her face.

"Then, do you think," she spoke uncertainly—"do you believe it is inevitable that she will come—sooner or later?"

"I hope not—to you," he said gently. "But she comes to most of us."

She longed to put another question, but there was a note of finality in his tone.

"I don't want to know," she said, and came and no further—"that warned her to probe no deeper. Whatever it was of bitterness that lay in the Englishman's past, he had no intention of sharing the knowledge with his chance companion of a day. thrusting up into the cloud-swept sky. Through rifts in the cloud—almost, it seemed, torn in the breast of heaven by those towering peaks—the sunlight slanted in long shafts, chequering the snows with shimmering patches of pale gold.

"It was worth the climb, then?"

The Englishman, his gaze on Jean's face, broke the silence abruptly. She turned to him, radiant-eyed.

"It's so beautiful that it makes one's heart ache!" she exclaimed, laying her hand on her breast, the little foreign turn of gesture she derived from her French ancestry.

She said no more, but remained very still, drinking in the sheer loveliness of the scene.

The man regarded her quietly as she stood there absorbed against the sky-line, her slim, brown-clad figure striking a warm note amid the chill Alpine whites and greys. Her face was slightly tilted, and as the sun-shine glinted on her hair and eyes, waking the sunset lights that shimmered in them, there was something vividly arresting about her—a splendour of ardent youth which brought a somewhat wistful expression into the rather weary eyes of the man watching her.

His thought travelled back to the brief snatch of conversation evoked by the sudden gloom of the pine-woods. Surely, for once, Fate would lay aside her snuffers and let this young, eager life pass by unshadowed.

Even as the thought took shape in his mind, Jean turned to him again, her face still radiant.

"Thank you for bringing me up here," she said simply. "It has been perfect."

She stretched out her hand, and he took it and held it in his for a moment.

"I'm glad you've liked it," he answered quietly. "It will always be a part of our day together—the day we stole from the conveniences."

He smiled whimsically. "And now, if you can bring your snuffers back to more prosaic matters, I suggest we have lunch. Scenery, however fine, isn't exactly calculated to sustain life."

"Most material person!" She laughed up at him. "I suppose you think a hand sawdust worth all the scenery in the world?"

"I admit to a preference for the sandwich at the moment," he acknowledged. "Come, now, confess! Aren't you hungry, too?"

"Starving! This air makes me feel as though I should be eating to eat in my life before."

"Well, then, come and inspect my snuggler."

The repeated refusal proved to be a roughly constructed little hut—hardly more than a shed provided with a door and thick-panel window, its only furniture a wooden bench and table.

But that it had served its purpose as a kind of "traveler's rest" was proved by the fragments of appreciation, both in prose and verse, that were to be found inscribed in a species of "Visitors' Book" which lay on the table, carefully preserved from damp in a strong metal box. Jean amused herself by perusing the various contributions to its pages while the Englishman unpacked the contents of his knapsack.

The lunch that followed was a merry little meal, the two conversing with a happy intimacy and freedom from reserve based on the reassuring knowledge that they would, in all probability, never meet again. Afterwards, they bent their energies to concerting a suitable inscription for insertion in the "Visitors' Book," squabbling like a couple of children over the particular form it should take.

So absorbed were they in the discussion that they failed to notice the perceptible cooling of the temperature. The sun no longer warmed the roof of the hut, and there was a desolate note in the sudden gusts of wind which shook the door at frequent intervals about the group trying to attract the attention of those within. Presently a louder rattle than usual, coincident with a chance pause in the conversation, roused them effectually.

The Englishman's keen glance flashed to the little window, through which was visible a dancing, whirling blur of white.

"Great Scott!" he exclaimed in good reason. "It's snowing like the very dickens!"

In two strides he had reached the door, and, throwing it open, peered out. A draught of icy air rushed into

CHILD need REGULATING?

CASTORIA WILL DO IT!

When your child needs regulating, remember this: the organs of babies and children are delicate. Little bowels must be gently urged—severely forced. That's why Castoria is used by so many doctors and mothers. It is specially made for children's ailments; contains no harsh, harmful drugs, no narcotics. You can safely give it to young infants for colic pains. Yet it is an equally effective regulator for older children. The next time your child has a little cold or fever, or a digestive upset, give him the help of Castoria, the children's own remedy. Genuine Castoria always has the name:

the hut, accompanied by a flurry of fine snow driven on the wind.

When he turned back, his face had assumed a sudden look of gravity.

"We must go at once," he said, speaking in a hurried, tense, apparently unconscious of his momentary lapse into his native tongue. "If we don't, we shan't be able to get back at all. The snow drifts quickly in the valley. Half an hour more of this and we shouldn't be able to go through."

Jean thrust the "Visitors' Book" back into its box, and began hastily repacking her companion's knapsack, but he stopped her almost roughly.

"Never mind that. Faster that furthing closer round your throat and come on. There's no taking chances in a blizzard like this. Don't you understand?"—almost roughly. "If we waste time we may have to spend the night here."

Impelled by the sudden urgency of his tones, Jean followed him swiftly out of the hut, and the wind, as though heeded by her, howled and drove it to with a menacing thud behind them.

Simple When You Know

Last month says the New Yorker, a gentleman got his bill from Hammer, Schlemmer's. He hadn't bought much there the previous month; only one item was listed, but that one item puzzled him exceedingly. It was "1 gr F H Bt R Wd Sca .045." He puzzled over this for some time, and got nowhere; finally just for the sake of his peace of mind, he called the store and asked them please to explain what it meant. Simple matter. It meant: "One gross flat-headed bright iron wood screws."

Duck Carries Band For Nine Years

Valuable Information Regarding Habits Of Birds Obtained Through Banding Method

On the first day of the 1920 season for banding black ducks in the province of New Brunswick, a resident of Joliette, brought down a banded black duck which had been winging its way over marsh and river for more than nine years. Proof of this is the fact that the bird was wearing band No. 5180, which is one of the official bands used by the National Parks of Canada Branch, Department of the Interior, Ottawa, and the United States Bureau of Biological Survey at Washington, D.C., which co-operate in conducting bird banding as a means of collecting scientific data concerning wild birds. Band No. 5180 was placed on this black duck by H. S. Oiler, K.C., at Lake Scugog, Ontario, on September 15, 1921. Could it be related the story of the duck's adventures and how it managed to escape all hazards for over nine years would be an interesting one. Much valuable information concerning migration, range, and longevity of many species of wild birds is being obtained by the banding method. Any person who finds a banded bird is requested to help with this important work by reporting the details to the Commissioner, National Parks of Canada, Department of the Interior, Ottawa.

Experience Is Limited

United States Has Not Learned Secret Of Lending

Before the war, England conducted the great bulk of the world's trade with a trifling gold stock, and she took care to prevent an accumulation of it by free lending abroad. But when the United States has $1,000,000,000 of gold she is doing nothing but to it, and unconsciously is thereby helping to accentuate and prolong the depression in world trade, from which she is now suffering as acutely as any other country. America has had only a limited experience as a creditor country, and it may appear to her that she cannot advantageously lend to bad debtors. Debtors more urgently need assistance when things are bad than when they are good. Bad though their position may be it will become worse unless they are helped. Debtor countries are by no means blameless, but the responsibilities of creditors are not less grave than those of debtor countries.—BIMBICK PAGE, London Times, England.

Persistent Asthma. A most distressing characteristic of this debilitating disease, is the persistence with which recurring attacks come to sap away strength and leave the sufferer in a state of almost constant exhaustion. No wise precaution can be taken that of keeping at hand a supply of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy famous as the most potent remedy for eradicating the disease from the tender air passages.

For Trouble due to Acid Stomach, Indigestion, Headaches, Gases, Nausea

When PAIN Comes

WHAT many people call indigestion is very often mere excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sour. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes the acids instantly. And the only safe, reliable, and pleasant remedy is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Out of a spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water neutralizes instantly many times that much acid and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Get a small bottle to try.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 50¢ a bottle—any drug store. (Made in Canada.)

TOO ONE SIDED

Alberta members of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association have taken a definite stand regarding free government publicity. They have decided to refrain from publishing all publicity matter sent out by the government, until the government sees fit to fulfill its promise of co-operation with the newspapers.

The publishers of ninety-two weekly newspapers concurred in this matter, as the flood of free publicity material threatens to bury the average newspaper office. As the resolution states: "Weekly newspapers cannot carry on their business successfully with kind words and glowing promises."

All this propaganda, while doubtless containing information of value, is distinctly in the interests of the government. Its free dissemination through the press enhances the standing of the government, which pays salaries to the promoters and the composers of the articles. But it is the newspaper publisher who pays the printer to set up the material for the public to read. Why should he contribute money out of his own pocket to spread such information as any existing government decides should be spread.

In this respect, Alberta is said to be a more serious offender than any other province. And the unfortunate feature is that many acts and regulations which it is important that the public should know, are never brought to attention through the press. New acts are passed, following which there is no systematic attempt to inform the public. The result is that many violations are committed through ignorance, and the entrance of the officers of the law is the first indication that a law has been broken. It would seem to be the clear duty of any government to inform citizens through the press of any changes or amendments in law. Only in this way would they be playing fair with the public, especially in instances where violations are likely to result in costly fines.

Certainly there is an abundance of government employees, inspectors, clerks, etc., all drawing salaries for something or other. For long now the weekly press has belonged to this army, differing only from others in the fact that its services, though admittedly valuable, are unpaid. Newspaper men have decided to call a halt in this expensive form of philanthropy, and call for a little compensation.—Ex.

CORBIN HAPPENINGS

The Anglican Ladies Guild held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. W. Crossfield on Thursday last. At this meeting, arrangements were made for a dance to be held in the new hall on Armistice night, November 11th.

Under the supervision of Miss Timaeus, the senior room of the public school has begun practicing for a Christmas concert to be held in December.

A fresh blanket of snow fell in the Corbin district over the week end, and local citizens are experiencing a taste of colder weather than they have had so far this fall.

At the annual meeting of the Corbin Community Club, held in the Club hall on Monday, the 19th, the following reports were received from the various clubs and officers elected to office for the coming year: Report from the Ladies' Softball Club showed a good season's work. They turned $22.85 into the Community fund, after having kept out enough to start their club next year. The Tennis Club report showed a surplus, so far unknown, that will be turned over at the next meeting. The Football Club report is unknown. It was moved by J. Hamilton, seconded by C. Shaw, that the surplus from the annual picnic be turned over to the Christmas Tree fund. Carried. Motion by C. Shaw, seconded by J. Dorman, that rink be run by voluntary subscription, books to be sent round at earliest possible date. Carried. Moved by J. Hamilton, that secretary be instructed to hire man to do the necessary work on rink. Seconded by C. Joyce and carried. Moved by J. Hamilton that shack be enlarged to accommodate caretaker and ladies' dressing room. Seconded by T. Collins and carried. Election of officers as follows: A. Corbin and E. J. Roberts, Sr., honorary presidents of the Corbin Community Club; R. G. Crocker, E. L. Warburton and E. J. Roberts, Jr., honorary vice-presidents; L. V. M. Peel, president; C. R. Shaw, vice-president; M. Gibson, secretary; Barney Lyne, treasurer. Choice of committees held over till next meeting.

The opening of the new hall, owned and operated by Mr. Burke, will take place this Friday evening, when a grand dance will be held under the auspices of the Corbin Community Club. Dancing commences at 9:30 and a large crowd is expected. Everyone will be anxious to see the new hall, which is something that has been badly needed in Corbin for a long time, and which Corbin people will enjoy for the first time, thanks to the enterprise of Mr. Burke, who has moved here from Kimberley. Music will be supplied by the Michel Troubadours, and supper will be served at the luncheon counter downstairs.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

A Hallwe'n party will be staged in the I.O.O.F. hall here on Friday night.

Mrs. Sidney Crayford, who had been ailing for several weeks, died at her home on the North Fork on Monday. Interment took place at the Livingstone cemetery on Wednesday afternoon. She leaves to mourn her loss, a devoted husband and family of young children.

Mr. Dick, who was employed with the Royal Bank here for several months, has moved to the Milk River district, where he will engage in ranching.

Mrs. Ed. Cowin journeyed to Vancouver on Monday, where she will pay a brief visit with her sons.

Mr. Totten, who for a few days relieved C. J. Bundy, C.P.R. agent, has gone to Foremost, Mr. Bundy having returned from a trip to eastern Canada.

ONTARIO SPENDS $2,345,000
ON ROADWORK TO RELIEVE UNEMPLOYED

More than $2,300,000 has been spent this year to date by the Ontario government on construction works to provide unemployment relief. All but $497,000 of this amount has been expended outside the city of Toronto.

The department of public works is engaged in excavating, grading, bridge-building and dredging, in addition to the trans-Canada highway project and other relief undertakings. The magnitude of the trans-Canada highway undertaking is stressed when it is revealed that more than 1,400 miles, a distance equal to the trip from Toronto to Florida, will be laid. Ten thousand men will be employed in the new highway's construction. They will be housed in 120 camps. Hardware, such as picks, shovels, etc., will cost $50,000; heavy machinery, $100,000; tools, $100,000; wages will total $24,000 per day. This winter 20,000 men will work on the 100 miles from North Bay East to Point Alexander, and another 8,000 are now commencing on the stretch from Schreiber and the Manitoba boundary.

SAYS CATHOLICS WILL NOT ATTEND

Halifax, N.S., Oct. 2.—If a million-dollar high school is erected in Halifax, it will not be attended by Catholics, according to Rev. Father Thomas Curran, chancellor, who issued a statement, quoting Canon 1374: "Catholic children are forbidden to attend non-Catholic, non-sectarian and mixed schools, like schools to which non-Catholics are admitted. This is the canon law of the church concerning the matter and discussion, and we would not, therefore, permit our children to attend high school such as that proposed for the city of Halifax. There are many other objectionable features to this suggested high school, but it is unnecessary to mention them in view of the church law."—Ex.

THE REASON WHY

DUCKS ARE WILD

There is little danger of the duck population of the prairies being greatly depleted if the experience of one "nimrod" who recently spent a day on the marshes near St. Laurent, Manitoba, can be considered general. This sportsman fired 75 shells, costing $3.75. His bag was three ducks, or $3.40 per duck. As there was no evidence of pellets in the birds, it is believed that they died of near failure caused by the barrage.

"Do you know, darling," he sighed, "you are so clever and so charming and so brilliant that at times I feel almost embarrassed in your presence."

"But, dearest," she replied, sympathizingly, "you mustn't really say that."

"Oh, I dare say I'll get over that feeling when I know you better," said the silly boy.—Answers.

SONG OF HOME

Washing dishes, scrubbing floors,
Rubbing windows, chairs and doors,
Planning meals while soothing baby,
Busy the while and that's not may-be.

I have no friends, nor yet no foes—
O well, I guess there's some, who knows?
And if I have, what matters it?
I still can smile—here's my secret:

I have my man, my family,
Who all the while depend on me.
Always I try my best to prove,
The test in life is keeping love.

The times are hard, they could be worse;
But is there gain from groan or curse?

I wait for brighter days to come,
Within my happy little home.

If things go wrong, the world morose,
I turn my thoughts away from those
Who curse and groan, for then you see,

I'm happy again. O, busy me.

GARY STAMPEE

Premiere showing of Alvin Wyckoff's multicolor film of the Calgary Stampede, recently released from Hollywood studios, was held recently at the Palace theatre, when editors of Alberta weekly papers were the guests of E. L. Richardson. The screening was through the courtesy of the Palace theatre management. Done with sound throughout and almost entirely in natural color, the picture was hailed by exhibition officials as an excellent reproduction of the thrilling scenes witnessed in July at the fair grounds.

The picture opens with shots of Lake Louise and a panoramic view of Calgary. Picturesque scenes of the big stampede parade follow with highlights of the actual stampede events in sequence. The skill with which the cameraman caught such events as steer-decorating, calf roping and wild horse riding brought many expressions of surprise and satisfaction from the audience, though few had not witnessed the actual stampede many times.

Possibly the most vivid pictures were those of the Sarcee, Stoney and Blackfoot tribesmen in full dress. They are shown mounted in the parade and at their teepee city on the fair grounds. The cameraman was also very fortunate in getting pictures of ceremonial dances by the braves.

The editors were the guests of the Palace theatre just prior to the showing of the stampede picture. The film being the "Smiling Lieutenant," by Maurice Chevallier. The pictures were very much enjoyed by the newspaper men.—Ex.

Whatever happens in this world of constant change it is not indicated that "Anis" shall ever be written to the record of the country press. It is an institution which promises to go on forever and to steadily improve as it advances. Evidence of improvement in the Alberta country press in the past decade are numerous and widespread. The Herald welcomes them, and the men who are making them, with the fraternal handshake of the great, fourth estate—Calgary Herald.

Russia has one auto for every 6400 people. Alberta has one for every six. Yet there are some Albertans who hold Russia up to us as an example. "Ding," famous U.S. cartoonist, who has been visiting Russia, declares that the U.S.S.R. is a huge vacuum, and that it will take a good many five-year plans to build it up so that the people there have anything like our standard of living. "So why be scared?" he asks. It does look as if the world had been pretty much scared by the Russian bogey man when, instead of fear, what we need is a policy which will help Russia's 168,000,000 people to become just as good a buyer of this world's goods as we on this continent are.—Lethbridge Herald.

Insp. J. O. Scott of the A.P.P. was recently interviewed by the "First Dollar" reporter. His story also goes back to old Ontario and is not without the glamor of youth. The inspector said: "I earned my first dollar by helping in the harvest fields near Ottawa, receiving 25 cents a day. A shun and I ran away from home and school, working for a farmer for a few days before he let our parents know where we were. They thought the experience would do us good and we stayed as long as we wanted—ten days. My first real job was clerking in the first co-operative grocery store in Ottawa." The inspector learned the trade of bricklaying under his father, a contractor of Ottawa. Later he came west and built the Alberta hotel in Edmonton and the first four houses in the University of Alberta.—Lethbridge Herald.

In connection with Tuesday's election in Great Britain, one British Columbia weekly newspaper came through a week previous with the following prediction: "Next Tuesday the people of Great Britain will exercise the franchise. Over twenty million men and women will vote for the candidate who will represent them in the 'Mother of Parliaments.' The issue is plain. The National Government is asking for a mandate to carry on under the present system of capitalism. The Labor party are out for Socialism. The National Government will win, because the British people as a whole are conservative and are not yet prepared to scrap the system which made England great. The result will not please a big percentage of British workers, but of one thing we may be sure, the common sense and sporting instinct of the average Britisher will cause him to accept with good grace the verdict of the majority of his countrymen."

AN INSULT TO CANADA
Here is an item clipped from the Financial Post. It tells its own story. We thought all along that Uncle Sam was disposed to play a fair game. If The Post is well informed the action of the bank in question reminds decent people of what might be looked for from loan sharks and note shavers:

"Evidence that quotations for the Canadian dollar in New York this week were merely nominal was provided by the experience one man had. He was coming to Canada and wanted tion may well be asked, why has he not been charged with these?

The wealthy Capone has been left unmolested so far as the crimes with which he is believed to be associated. It would seem, because, to use a common expression, "money talks" in the United States in coming to the aid of those who come under the law, making convictions very difficult things in crimes such as murder. The intricate processes of law and justice seem to have been expressly made for the protection of criminals who have money. "Money talks" in enabling criminals to hire expert lawyers to raise barriers against the prosecution of the law in the way of adjournments, appeals, new trials and the many devices in the way of technicalities which the law allows for criminals who are able to pay the shot so as to put off the evil day if not to be finally acquitted by the strange methods of the law as it prevails in the United States. So there is no such thing as justice swift and sure as it obtains in British countries in the United States. Convictions are uncertain things.

It must seem extraordinarily strange to those who have knowledge of Al Capone that, in spite of all that he is known by, he only stepped into the meshes of the law when he failed to pay his income tax. No matter what his gangster career has made him responsible for, in what is believed of him, there has been no attempt to bring the responsibility home to him. No charge has been laid against him. It forcibly brings to the fore that it is a fact in the United States that a criminal with wealth at his disposal can not only defy the law but render it powerless to take its proper course against him. When we come to recognize this, as we cannot fail to do, we have to be sincerely thankful that there is such a thing as British law and justice.—Lethbridge Herald.

JUSTICE IN THE UNITED STATES

People in Canada have no doubt been following the prosecution of Al Capone on the charge of failing to pay his income tax. Capone is a character well known throughout the continent. His name has been associated with the gangster activities in Chicago which have been the cause of many murders. The ques-

Set Your Own Standard

Most of us have seen the cartoons and read the stories appearing under the title "Keeping up with the Joneses." We have laughed over them, but at the same time we have sighed and murmured to ourselves, "What fools!" Calmly facing, and closely diagnosing the situation which confronts thousands of us today as individuals, and all of us collectively as represented by our municipal, provincial and federal governments, must we not admit that no small part of our present financial problems are the result of conditions created by an attitude analogous to that portrayed in "Keeping up with the Joneses?"

The activeness of our present day situation may be due to other causes quite beyond our control—such as protracted drought, and consequent crop failure, leading to unemployment in urban centres—but would we not as a people, individually and collectively, have been able to withstand these shocks if, when times were prosperous and business active, we had not lived up to, and in many cases far beyond, our current income in a desperate race in which each and all were striving to keep up with somebody else?

Looking back—and it is in times like these that people are in the mood to "look back," take stock, and give heed to things that at other times when everything is forging full speed ahead they will not stop and consider—is it not possible to see that we indulged in expenditures which our actual position did not warrant but into which we plunged because of a false vanity that we must keep up with somebody else?

The old motor car although still serviceable was not good enough because somebody else had bought a new, more up-to-date, faster car; the simple, refreshing, health-giving holiday at a near-by lake we had enjoyed for years had to give place to an expensive trip to the Coast, or a winter in California, or Florida, or some Eastern city because somebody else had followed such a course; or because somebody else sent their son or daughter to university, we must do likewise, even though our boy and girl might not have similar tastes or inclinations or aptitude for the higher degrees of learning.

And these traits of character in the individual naturally have found expression in the policies of the governments we have created. Because older established, more populous and wealthier provinces, states and countries have, through the expenditure of millions of dollars, created great systems of permanent, all-weather roads, why must we do the same although still young, weak and not yet wealthy as a community. Not only roads, but our schools, our public buildings, all our public services had to be the equal of those to be found anywhere else. As individuals, as electors, we demanded these things, and our governments were forced to comply with our demands or give way for those who would. We were determined to keep up with the Joneses of the whole world.

As a result the factories of the world were busy turning out not necessities alone but enormous quantities of luxuries at a fabulous cost. Stocks and bonds of these inflated industries mounted in value to dizzy heights. Everybody bought them with a view to amassing more money in order that they might buy still more luxury. Sooner or later a collapse had to come, and the Joneses of the world and their vast army of imitators are now in difficulty.

There is a lesson all may well take to heart at this time. It is this: Rightly or wrongly—and wrongly we believe, and certainly wrong in the vast differences which do exist—wealth is unevenly divided, income and earning power vary greatly from one person to another, and at different periods of a person's life. One man's standard of living and expenditure cannot safely be accepted as sound and proper by another man. While our present distribution of wealth continues, one man's loose change will be another man's extravagant folly.

Like everything else in this changing world, the social order is changing. Furthermore, it is the right and privilege of every man and woman to work for a change along lines he or she considers to be better, and just; with this limitation, however, that they must consider and respect the rights of others just as they expect their rights to be respected. Self-interest alone must not be our guide, because, in the final analysis, insistence of self-interest alone means self-destruction. And this is true of nations just as truly as it is of individuals.

George Washington once said: "Economy makes happy homes and sound nations—instill it deep." Far better to follow this sage advice than to indulge in the heart-burning dissatisfaction of continually trying to keep up with the Joneses.

Suspect Radium Paint

Is Causing Cancer

Workers Have Been Developing Disease in Increasing Numbers

Cues to the cause of cancer in radio-activity are disclosed in the report of the New Jersey radium clock dial painters' deaths.

Lately some of these victims have been developing cancer in increasing numbers, and the report has disclosed the possibility that now unrecognized sources of radio-active bombardment in the human body may cause cancer.

The dial painters have a form of dental emanations never before found in human beings. These are "alpha particles," heavy nuclei of atoms, travelling 12,000 miles a second, which in medical use are screened off by the tubes enclosing the radium.

The report is made by Harrison S. Martland, M.D., of the Department of Pathology of Newark City Hospital, in the American Journal of Cancer.

Of 18 deaths to date among women in the New Jersey plant, he says six died of cancer. He finds a sixth cancer death due to swallowing radium paint by a woman who worked on New York and Connecticut clock factories. Four more "dial" cases suspected of developing cancer are under observation.

Becoming Serious Matter

Gasoline Being Stolen From Government Caches in North

His dreds of gallons of gasoline have been stolen from government gasoline caches scattered in various parts of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and the Northwest Territories during the past two years and investigations are underway by the R.C.M.P.

The theft of a few gallons of gas does not seem a very serious offense, but to the R.C.A.F. planes in their travels across the bush country it may easily enough be a matter of life and death.

Expecting to find a cache of hundreds of gallons to carry them back to civilization or on to the next stopping place, pilots frequently have found the supply buildings broken into and only a few scattered tins of fuel left.

Gasoline that cost 35 cents a gallon in this city is eagerly purchased for $9 and $10 a gallon "north of 57."

The cost of freighting the fuel explains the difference.

Last winter a record price of $10 a gallon was paid by a northern military company for transporting gas to Reindeer Lake in Northern Saskatchewan.

Hard Times in Labrador

Twelve Thousand Families Are Reported To Be Facing Starvation

Unless prompt assistance is forthcoming some 12,000 families face starvation this winter in the Button Bay district of Labrador, according to a report presented the Quebec Government by Rev. A. S. Levesque, provincial school inspector and Anglican missionary of the stricken district. This condition was brought about by the failure of the cod fishing industry this year.

The report was considered by a cabinet meeting, at the conclusion of which Premier L. A. Taschereau said the Quebec Government will do something as soon as possible to alleviate the situation.

"We really naturally like the Dominion authorities to go 50-50 with us in providing this relief," he added.

DRAPERIES MADE NEW

"When we resumed housekeeping a month ago I found my draperies had become creased from packing. I hung them out on the line, hoping to remove the creases, but they looked the worse. The result was they became badly faded and sun-spotted."

"We really naturally like the happy thought struck me to dye them. I just dyed them a deeper green, and I used Diamond Dyes they look gorgeous and new. I have never seen easier dyes to use than Diamond Dyes. They give the most beautiful colors—when used either for tinting or dyeing—and never take the life out of cloth as other dyes do."

Mrs. J.E.T., Montreal.

A New Product

Making Of Wool Leather Is Closely Guarded Secret

"The newest leather isn't leather at all. It is nothing more or less than wool. Wool-leather has been developed at the headquarters of the British Wool Industries Research Association in Leeds, England, and the process is a closely guarded secret. It looks like leather, wears like leather, is waterproof, and can be produced remarkably cheaply. The new wool-leather is excellent for boot uppers, furniture, motorcars, coats, and for the upholstery of cars, buses, and railway vehicles. Not the least of its advantages is that it is easily produced in any desired shade or colour."

Proud Of Record

In the province of Vermont, Sweden, 164 farmers have received diplomas testifying to the long hereditary tenure of their lands. The record seems to be held by a family at Eda, which has farmed its lands since 1470 but another family, at Norda Enten, has held a farm since 1480. The Swedish farmers take great pride in their family records and the new diplomas are highly prized.

Achieved Great Success

Lord Byng Restored Public Confidence in Scotland Yard

Canadians will read with warm satisfaction the tribute paid to Lord Byng by the London Times on his relinquishing the office of Commissioner of the Metropolitan Police Force. The great popularity which his lordship gained with the soldiers under his command on the battlefields of Europe was shared by the citizens of this country when he became Governor-General of the Dominion. He was liked for his personal qualities as much as he was admired for his ability and strength of character.

When he was appointed to Scotland Yard there were some who wondered whether military qualifications were the right credentials for a police chief. Unfortunately Lord Byng has suffered much from ill-health during his tenure of office, but he has succeeded in achieving a great success in the position. Certain happenings had marred the wonderful record of Britain's Metropolitan Police Department, and it was to no surprise that a commander was called. He undertook the task with his usual thoroughness, however, with the result, according to the Times, that "Scotland Yard has gained nothing less than complete restoration of public confidence in the police force and the police force has regained confidence in itself. The good which Lord Byng has done will live after him."

May he be spared to long enjoy his well-earned retirement! He has shown himself in peace and war a true commander and a great administrator. Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph.

- 1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water.
- 1 cup meat stock, or 1 cup water plus 4 bouillon cubes or 4 teaspoons beef extract.
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce.
- 3 teaspoons paprika.
- 3 cups cooked corneb beef, ground.
- 1 tablespoon onion, grated.
- 1 tablespoon prepared mustard.

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add meat stock. Worcestershire sauce and paprika. Stir until slightly thickened, fold in corneb beef, onion, and mustard. Turn into loaf pan. Chill until firm. Unmold. Serve in slices on crisp lettuce. Garnish with sliced hard-cooked eggs or tomato wedges. Serves 10.

Quince Honey

- 6 large quinces.
- 4 large sweet apples.
- Juice 2 lemons.
- Sugar.
- 3 pints boiling water.

Pare the quinces and apples, and grate them. Measure the pulp and use three-fourths as much sugar as pulp. Pour the boiling water over the sugar and stir it until it is almost dissolved. Add the fruit pulp and lemon juice, and cook the mixture until it is clear. Pour it into clean, hot glasses and cover with paraffin. It will have the consistency and appearance of honey.

Mass Purchasing Needed

Production Has No Value Unless Goods Can Be Bought

Just as we had found out about all we needed to know about mass production, the whole thing was spoiled by our not knowing enough about mass purchasing! We believed so sincerely that he was the real benefactor of the race who made two blades of grass to grow where formerly there grew but one that we lost our heads completely as to the other real benefactor. Production in all very well, but there is little value in products that meet no real want. The problem of production was solved by the wise old teacher who warned his scholars that when one had food and clothing and shelter that he should be content.

Mass production had made it very difficult for some folk to face any emergency. We have heard of folks, for instance, who, year in and year out, did nothing but fill a grease cup or move a lever. Now there are no grease cups to fill and there is no end served in moving the levers. But cup filler and lever mover are now hungry.

Make Drastic Cuts

United States Naval Expenditures To Be Reduced

With strikes cutting more than $50,000,000 from its 1933 expenditures, the United States navy has eliminated its less important activities and has sharply curtailed many that it valued highly.

More than 3,000 civilian employees will be laid off. More than 4,000 sailors and marines will be taken from the rolls.

The Boston, Mass., and Charleston, S.C., naval yards will be closed, and so will the operating base at New Orleans, La., the naval station at Newport, Rhode Island, and the naval ammunition depot at Lake Denmark, New Jersey.

Ready-Made Medicine. You need no physician for ordinary ills when you have at hand a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. For coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchial troubles, it is invaluable; for sores, burns, bruises, sprains it is unsurpassed; while for cuts, sores and the like it is an unquestionable healer. It needs no testimonial other than the use, and that will satisfy anyone as to its effectiveness.

Canada a Good Country

Times may be "hard" in Canada in some lines, but generally speaking, this country can hold its head up with any of them when it comes to business integrity and solidity. Naturally, we cannot hope to be rid of those who are always tripping over their lower lip, but these, fortunately, are in the minority. But they that minority can sometimes broadcast.

World's Poultry Congress

Preparations Being Made To Entertain Delegates To Rome

Delegates to the Fifth World's Poultry Congress being held in Rome, Italy, in 1933, are assured an exceptional opportunity for visiting. Not only will they "see Rome" during Congress week but they will be guests of the Government of Italy for an eight-day tour of the country, during which visits will be made to such interesting and historic spots as Leghorn, Florence, Pisa, Perouse, Ancona, Bologna, Ravenna, Milan, Como, and Venice. Canadian delegates will return by way of Switzerland, Germany, Belgium and France en route to Great Britain. Going routes being considered include via Paris and the South of France, via Gibraltar and Old Spain, via the Riviera, and by steamers direct to Naples with a day at Palermo. F. C. Elford, Dominion Poultry Husbandman, is again giving an active lead to Canadian participation and will be glad to hear from anyone interested in attending the Rome Congress.

Telegraphing Flowers

Television May Enable Purchaser To Actually See The Flowers Selected

The sending of "flowers by telegraph" has for some years been a great convenience to many people, although they have been obliged largely to leave the selection of the bouquet or plant to the florist. But, according to information given out at the recent convention of the Florists Telegraph Delivery Association, television will soon enable the customer actually to see his selection of blooms and supervise their arrangement before delivery is made. Perhaps the time may come when a customer can get a whiff of their fragrance—Christian Science Monitor.

Will Ask Pest Survey

The Alberta Government will make a request to the Dominion Government that Dr. A. A. Zapp, pest mouse specialist of the Federal Department of Mines, be permitted to make an extensive survey of pest mouse deposits in Alberta next year. The step is being taken with a view to ascertaining the commercial qualities of Alberta pest mouse for insulating and agricultural purposes.

"FATIGUE?"
I just postpone it!"

"No, I don't have 'nerves.' You can't have them, and hold this sort of position. My head used to throb around three o'clock, and certain days, of course, were worse than others."

"Then I learned to rely on Aspirin." "The sure cure for any headache is rest. But sometimes we must postpone it. That's when Aspirin saves the day. Two tablets, and the nagging pain is gone until you are home. And once you are comfortable the pain seldom returns."

Keep Aspirin handy. Don't put it away, or put off taking it. Fighting a headache to finish the day may be heroic, but it is also a little foolish. So is sacrificing a night's sleep because you've an annoying cold, or irritated throat, or grumbling tooth, neuralgia, neuritis. These things are not heroic. They depress the heart, and may be taken freely. That is medical opinion. It is a fact established by the last twenty years of medical practice.

The only caution to be observed is when you are buying Aspirin. Don't take a substitute because it will not act the same. Aspirin is made in Canada.

STEVENS SEES BETTER TIMES FOR DOMINION

Montreal, Que.—A message of confidence and optimism was brought to the Canadian Manufacturers' Association banquet here by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce.

Prosperity, based on more permanent structures than those which had collapsed in the hectic days of 1928 and 1929 awaited the country in the new epoch which opens next year, he declared.

The Minister was given an eager hearing as he pointed to certain facts and figures to support his conviction that optimism was justified. He hoped these figures would be by way of contrast with the constant comparisons published on the financial pages or daily newspapers which, he said, depicted little but the worst side of conditions.

Things were undoubtedly bad at present, but there was a silver lining, the Minister stated. His purpose was to seek to instill confidence in the country, in the people and in the future, for confidence was needed today throughout the world, more so than any other element in the human make-up. There was a great deal of apprehension rife. There was a lack of trust apparent, unfortunately and decidedly unnecessary.

"A genuine effort to stimulate internal business is liable to bring more definite results than efforts spent in external trade," Hon. Mr. Stevens said. He pointed to the year of 1929, one of high prices, in which total production in this country had been disposed of on the basis of 20 per cent. for external trade and 80 per cent. for internal trade. An increase of one per cent. in internal trade would mean an increase of $50,000,000, whereas one per cent. increase in external trade would mean only $12,000,000.

"I am not seeking to diminish the need for expanding export trade, but what I am seeking to impress upon your minds is the opportunity you have of making a fairly rapid expansion of the business of the country by stimulating internal trade."

Reports appearing constantly in the newspapers of a depression between today and the same day last year had had effect on the human mind, leading to an impression that all was bad, the Minister said.

"As a matter of fact it is not so bad. In the matter of exports we find for the first eight months of 1930 and 1931 that the drop this year is 28.4 per cent. It sounds serious, nearly a third, but on the comparison of prices, as between the two years, we find that the drop would be only 13.3 per cent."

Mr. Stevens called attention to the new process for building, and remarked that many parts of the main cities of Canada would have to be rebuilt. He had noted of late the trend in that direction in Montreal.

Not Yet Learned Lesson

Many Disasters Have Apparently Failed To Impress Nations

Toronto, Ont.—Equality of sacrifice among the nations was stressed as the salvation of the world, by Sir William Clark, British High Commissioner in Canada. Officiating at the annual prize giving at St. Andrew's College, Sir William addressed the students. Looking back over a generation, "which in the last 20 years has seen so many disasters come upon it, culminating in the severest and most widespread depression which the world has known," Sir William expressed a fear that even now the nations of the world had not yet learned their lesson.

London, Eng.—The office of the colonial secretary was informed that 50 lives had been lost in the destruction of 18 native villages on the island of Cristobal in the western Pacific when a tidal wave swept the settlements following an earthquake.

The earthquake, which was severe, occurred in the central and eastern areas of the British Solomon Islands, a report from the high commissioner at the western Pacific stated.

Giant Aeroplane

Large German Machine To Be Used In Hudson Bay Area

Montreal, Que.—One of the largest aeroplanes ever brought to Canada has been taken from the hold of the "Havenshire" and is being conveyed to Canadian Juniors, Limited, service station, preparatory to being assembled for use in the Hudson Bay region.

The giant German plane, the first of its kind to reach this country, has an over-all length of 62 feet, a span of 95 feet, and is 15 feet high. She will be used by Canadian Airways as a freighter. She will be able to fly a distance of 500 miles with a cargo of 5,800 pounds, at an average cruising speed of 100 miles an hour.

Only two men will be needed to fly the freighter, but if it was decided to take passengers instead of cargo she could carry a total of 34 persons.

Favorable Trade Balance

British and German Trade Shows Signs of Improvement

Washington.—Business edged forward last month in both Great Britain and Germany.

Germany's favorable trade balance, gained through increased exports and declining imports, broke all records during that month.

The United Kingdom has a larger unfavorable trade balance than in August, but there were increases in both exports and imports.

Reports to the commerce department gave the following figures: German imports, September, 448,000,000 marks; exports, 885,000,000 marks, including reparations deliveries in kind of 23,000,000 marks.

United Kingdom imports, September, 68,300,000 pounds; exports, 29,800,000 pounds, and re-exports at 3,500,000 pounds.

Relief For West

$50,000 Worth Of Food And Clothing Shipped From Eastern Canada

Toronto, Ont.—Since the national emergency relief committee of the United Church of Canada was formed last August, 38 carloads of clothing, fruit and vegetables, mostly from Ontario, have been shipped to drought-stricken areas of the Canadian west. Definite promise of 27 more carloads of relief supplies was secured, according to officials of the committee.

Figures compiled show that a total of $50,000 worth of food and clothing has been shipped to the prairies from Eastern Canada and British Columbia under the direction of the relief committee. The largest total is that of Huron County, Ontario, which is now leading its eighth car.

Unemployed Women

No Census Will Be Taken Says

Ottawa, Ont.—The Dominion Government will not undertake registration of unemployed women. This is made plain in a letter Senator Gideon Robertson has sent to the National Council of Women. The registration of unemployed men has proved a considerable task. He is hopeful of obtaining much desired information from the census in this regard.

Senator Robertson's letter says the results of the efforts to register unemployed men have been so obviously misused by duplications and men not unemployed registering in anticipation of their becoming out of work, that it seems to preclude the possibility of successful registration of unemployed women.

Death Of A. J. McPhail

President Of Saskatchewan Wheat Pool Passes Suddenly In Regina

Regina, Sask.—A. J. McPhail, president of Saskatchewan Wheat Pool since its inception, and president of Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers, Limited, that is, the central selling agency, died suddenly October 21 in Regina General Hospital. He was 47 years old.

Mr. McPhail underwent an operation on September 28 for appendicitis, and since that time had been making satisfactory progress. He was to have been released from hospital the day he died.

His attending physician, Dr. Hugh McLean, stated that embolism, or the release of a clot in the blood stream, caused his sudden death.

Floods In India

Calcutta, India.—At least 1500 persons were drowned and 2,000 made homeless by floods which reached a depth of 30 feet in the vast region of India. About 90 per cent. of the cattle in the area were drowned and considerable damage done to the jute crop.

Repays U.S. Credit

Bank Of England Returns Large Portion Of Big Loan

New York, N.Y.—The New York Herald-Tribune says the Bank of England has repaid most of the $15,000,000 30-day credit it obtained from the United States federal reserve system on August 1.

It was revealed, says the newspaper, in a major front page story, that the bank had been able to retire almost $100,000,000 of its credit in this market.

The Herald-Tribune says further in part:

News of the retirement of four-fifths of the August credit, which matures on October 31, evoked considerable surprise and gratification here. It was regarded as a foregone conclusion that the federal reserve advance, while nominally due last week, was actually "frozen" for some time to come.

Thus, by repayment of the major portion of its credit for the federal reserve, the Bank of England has lowered substantially its foreign liabilities, thereby removing some of the obstacles which might be considered as standing in the way of an early stabilization of sterling exchange, and simultaneously the liquidity of the federal reserve system has been increased a corresponding amount.

LEAGUE FALTERS IN EFFORTS TO ESTABLISH PEACE

Geneva, Switzerland.—Shaken by doubt of United States support and confronted by Japan's stoutly-maintained refusal to withdraw her Manchurian troops until her terms have been met, the council of the League of Nations faltered in its efforts to establish peace between China and Japan.

Pessimism was so complete that a proposal to adjourn the council's special session for three weeks, without concrete action to arrest the Manchurian conflict, was debated. Observers feared that the crisis, now five weeks old, would continue unchecked.

Fate of the February disarmament conference and the life of the league itself were declared to be hanging in the balance. The council's special session in Manchuria, too, fear was expressed that within China itself there would be political turmoil as a result of the Geneva deadlock. Council members maintained silence concerning apprehensions about the attitude of the United States, but it was admitted that the council sized the situation up thus:

After giving the league cordial assurances of Washington's support in its efforts at pacification, and after accepting the invitation to sit with the council under the terms of the Briand-Kellogg pact, the United States Government now has evidenced unwillingness to support the move to insist on complete withdrawal of Japanese troops by a definite date, nor has the United States supported the proposal for a commission of neutral observers on the spot.

Deep regret was expressed over reports from Washington that United States Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson has assured Japanese Ambassador Katsujirō Dehuchi the United States has no intention of participating in any program of economic pressure.

THEY HOLD GERMANY'S FATE

In the hands of these five men a great share of the fate of Germany now rests. Heinrich Brüning (upper right), Chancellor and Foreign Minister, charged with the formation of a new cabinet, selected Hermann Dietrich (lower left), as Vice-Chancellor and Finance Minister; General Will Groener (lower right), as Minister of War and Interior; and Dr. Kurt Joze (upper left), as Minister of Justice. Champion Cattle On E.P. Ranch Burned

Ranch Hands Battled Destructive Fire

Calgary, Alberta.—Damage totaling $18,000 was done by fire which razed two barns on the Prince of Wales E.P. Ranch near High River, Alberta. The fire claimed the $1,000 champion cow "Balsam Lavender", the $800 champion heifer, "Princeton Lily", the $600 yearling heifer, "Princeton Jessie" and seven young bulls.

Prof. W. L. Carlyle, manager of the ranch, believed that spontaneous combustion caused the outbreak. All the ranch hands battled the flames but the high wind blocked their efforts and the fire spread rapidly. For 12 hours the fire was fought before it was prevented from spreading to other buildings of the ranch. Professor Carlyle said the champion cow heifers were being prepared for the Royal Winter Show at Toronto. He said all other cattle would be withdrawn now because of the conflagration.

Federal Authority Must Be Secured

Before Provinces Initiate New Undertakings As Relief Measure

Ottawa, Ont.—"All that has taken place in this various provinces and municipalities have been notified to refrain from initiating new undertakings without federal authority," Senator Hon. Gideon Robertson, Minister of Labor, declared here, commenting on western despatches to the effect that the provinces had been requested to cut their relief measures.

"We found that new undertakings were being embarked upon for which federal authority had not been secured," the Minister said, "this had to stop. We notified the provinces that such works as were already commenced could be proceeded with; but that new enterprises must have Dominion authorization. We intend to insist upon that being respected. That is all."

Premiers Will Meet Again In November

To Consolidate Views On Problems Of Western Provinces

Calgary, Alberta.—Taking back to their respective provinces information which will be studied in preparation for another conference in November, premiers and cabinet members of the prairie provinces closed their conference here and left for their homes.

The meeting in November is being called to consolidate views of the prairie provinces and British Columbia in an effort to have legislatures of each province take uniform action on problems debated. British Columbia's representatives, absent from the last meeting, will take part in the November session.

Topics on which information was exchanged during the two-day gathering included unemployment relief, curtailment of provincial expenditures and finances generally, debtor-creditor relations, wheat pool guarantees and gasoline prices. On the question of gasoline prices alone was any definite action taken, and this was a step towards an investigation under the Combines act.

Slump Seen As Benefit

Henry Ford Says Depression Is A Wholesome Thing In General

New York, N.Y.—Henry Ford thinks the economic slump "has done less harm to the people of our country than a continuance of our previous false prosperity would have done."

In an interview here, Mr. Ford says "The depression is a wholesome thing, in general. The condition will be broken, when people cease to believe that something can be obtained for nothing and when people get back their self-dependence, that is, when they cease to lean on the initiative of a few, either to provide work or charity."

SAYS IN RAILWAY EXPANSION MORE CAUTION NEEDED

Winnipeg, Man.—Re-adjustment of the capital structure of the Canadian National Railways "would not alter the economic position of the country one iota," Dr. W. W. Swanson, professor of economics at the University of Saskatchewan, told the Winnipeg young men's board of trade in an address in which he blamed the people of Canada for any extravagance in the building up of the government-owned railroad.

A private corporation, in debt as the C.N.R. is, might well consider an arrangement with its bondholders which might permit the scaling down of its indebtedness, Dr. Swanson said, but he added: "It is not conceivable that the Dominion of Canada will assemble the bondholders in this case and offer a plan of reconstruction which will involve their agreeing to a scaling down of the face value of their investments."

Capital readjustment of the C.N.R. "would be a trick in accounting," declared Dr. Swanson. "It would be wholly useless, except as gesture." The Saskatchewan economist, who accompanied Premier R. B. Bennett to the last imperial conference in an expert capacity, thought the present condition of the C.N.R. has some value to Canadians "as a warning."

"It indicates in plain terms," he said, "the necessity for exercise of more caution in the future than has been shown in the past. It indicates the need to weigh projects of national expansion more carefully than we have sometimes done; the wisdom of making haste slowly, even in a country as rich and as capable of development as is Canada."

Dr. Swanson defended the railway's management. "Operating accounts of the system indicate they proceeded consistently along the lines of what they identify, without protest from the public, conceived to be their mandate—to make the railway complete in equipment and service; to seek for new business wherever it offered; to handle the routine operations of the system efficiently, and to draw on the Dominion treasury for the moneys necessary for these purposes."

"If, as it has often been alleged, there has been extravagance in the addition of facilities, I for one shall accept my share of the blame which, as a whole, must rest on the people of this country. Chies demanding hotels, travellers clamoring for speedier trains, individuals and journals applauding refinement of luxury and service of the line is the Dominion of Canada and they themselves have provided what they demanded."

BRIAND PLAN IS NOW FOUND TO BE UNSUITABLE

Geneva, Switzerland.—Japan has refused to allow the council of the League of Nations to set a time limit for withdrawal of her troops to the Manchurian railway zone. In setting forth his position, Kenkichi Yashizawa, Japanese spokesman, declared that his nation purposed to remove the troops as soon as security conditions permit, but could not accept a definite date.

This was his answer to a resolution by Aristide Briand, chairman of the council, suggesting the evacuation be completed November 16, date set for the next session of the council.

The Briand resolution, which is the council's formula for dealing with the Manchurian crisis, also was attacked by Dr. Alfred Sze, China's spokesman, who said it fell short of his government's desires and asked for time to seek instruction from Nanking.

Since neither of the parties to the conflict approved the resolution, the council adjourned. M. Briand had announced the terms of his resolution were subject to modification in public debate.

The Briand program—product of many hours of labor in private—not only called on Japan to complete evacuation by a fixed date but also requested the Japanese and Chinese governments to enter into direct negotiations to arrange the details of the troop withdrawal.

Shanghai, China.—The unified democratic Chinese Republic Sun Yat-sen, its first president, planned and fought, seemed nearer as President Chiang Kai-shek conferred here with political adversaries who, until Japan's military invasion of Manchuria last month, were active reformers against his government.

Simultaneously at Nanking, the capital, the National Government made public its reply to the United States note invoking the Kellogg anti-war pact. The reply promised to uphold the pact, expressing deep appreciation of "America's concern over Manchurian developments."

Indian Conference Continues

Report To Congress Is Ridiculous Says Premier MacDonald

London, England.—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald at the meeting of the federal structure committee characterized as "disgusting falsehoods" reports that the Indian round table conference was on the verge of breaking up.

"There has been no change in the government's policy to carry the conference to a close," he said. "It is the duty of everyone concerned to work for the successful outcome of the conference."

Sir Samuel Hoare, secretary for India, described a statement credited to Mahatma Gandhi that the conference would adjourn on November 12, as "ridiculous."

"We are prepared to continue the conference as long as delegates bring a useful purpose can be served by our deliberations," he said.

Gandhi made steamer reservations several days ago to return to India "next month," but the government of Britain is not prepared to grant the demands of the Indian Nationalists and that he was wasting his time here.

United States Again Buys Canadian Butter

Discount On Dollar Has Made Exportation Profitable

Toronto, Ont.—"Despite a duty of 14 cents a pound, Canadian butter is again finding its way into the United States for the first time since 1927," says a special dispatch to the Toronto Mail and Empire from its Ottawa correspondent.

"The discount on the Canadian dollar in New York has done the trick." The dispatch continues. "There is a shortage of butter in the States and a surplus here, making United States prices appreciably higher than Canada's, but exportation has become profitable only since the dollar went down to an eight, nine or ten per cent. discount here, making United States 1927 has such export been anything but a losing proposition."
